

Jack Malley, Partner

Jack Malley is a member of the firm's litigation and real estate departments. Mr. Malley concentrates his litigation practice on the representation of clients in complex commercial actions. He has represented real estate companies, banks, title insurance companies, contractors, broker-dealers, consumer product manufacturers and many other types of business entities in federal and state actions, arbitrations and mediations. Mr. Malley's real estate practice concentrates on commercial leasing and construction contracts.

Mr. Malley has published articles in his field including The Proposed and Enacted Cheeseburger Bills Limiting Obesity Lawsuits, LJM's Product Liability Newsletter (November 2005) and Punitive Damage Awards: The End of Excess?, Securities Arbitration Commentator (October 2003).

Mr. Malley holds a B.A. from Providence College, a M.B.A from Fordham University and a J.D. from the University of Dayton.